Dear Dr. May,

Thank you for your fantastic lunchtime presentation, Eat What You Love, Love What You Eat, for the Maryland Academy of Family Physicians. The interactive presentation followed by the mindful eating experience was both meaningful and memorable, just as you promised.

I personally loved, loved, loved the session and so did everyone else! Your session was very unique and received high marks from our members. I really enjoyed seeing all of our physicians and guests so entertained and engaged in the learning process.

Most importantly, I believe attendees will more effectively transfer your key healthy lifestyle message to their patients because they experienced the power of it for themselves.

Sincerely,

Esther Rae Barr, CAE
